

An Interview With... Stephen Lewis

GS: Stephen, it's been a few years since we last spoke. For newer readers, let's start with what you do.

SL: What I do is the AIM Program, a holographic spiritual technology designed to help you in the process of healing yourself, whatever you need to heal—physically, emotionally or spiritually. We use a hologram, coupled with computer technology so that you focus on whatever about you needs to be healed until it is healed. We help you heal yourself.

GS: Briefly describe the process.

SL: We take your hologram, that's anything unique to you, it could be your blood, hair, urine, saliva, it doesn't matter. It need not even include your DNA, it could be your photograph. We prefer pictures, really, because urine or saliva gets messy. We digitize your photograph, bring it back to analog and put it on a series of huge trays which are attached to a massive bank of computers generating frequencies of imbalances and their corresponding balancing frequency. You then take over, using what we call the Rosetta Frequencies. You choose what you need to heal because you do know. I don't know what you need to heal. I can look and find a few things, but you can't miss anything. You continue to focus on what you need to heal until everything within you that you need to heal is healed. Your life force is then, on my arbitrary scale, 100 on a scale of 100, as opposed to 0.00, which is dead. Most people are between the two numbers.

GS: You're saying that we heal based on the frequencies you're providing—this would be happening subconsciously?

SL: Subconscious is an arbitrary word. However, you know with absolute certainty what you need to heal and you will select it. It's important that you have this ability to select. Let's say there are half a million frequencies generated by the bank of computers. Nobody can deal with half a million things. If you think twenty moves ahead in chess, you're a grand master. So you ignore most of the half million except for the ten, twenty or thirty that pertain to you. Without that, this program would not work or be a possibility.

GS: The companion piece going along with this interview is, well, you could use a lot of words, interesting, perhaps scary. Explain it a little more clearly for our readers, what you see happening, there's a paradigm shift, a new scale emerging, we're going to thin the herd ... what is it?

SL: All of the above. You have to understand, I expected to be retired at this point in my life.

GS: We plan and God laughs, eh?

SL: Precisely so, Guy. Something happened and I went, damnit, there goes Maui, right down the tubes. Here I am working harder than I ever worked in my life. I can afford to retire, but ethically I cannot, so here I am. I saw what was happening energetically in the world and to the greatest extent, in the United States, and I went wow, people have to understand this and deal with it. Nothing is a problem if you recognize it and deal with it. This is an attempt to remove the blinders.

GS: What should we be seeing?

SL: What is happening to us in our well being, energetically, to our lives. People are focused right now on the economy for the most part, but the economy is a minor, almost trivial symptom of the overall process. If you look around, we have lost our enthusiasm, our projections of "it's all good," we've lost our confidence. All these things that we call the economy are really kept running, not by nuts and bolts and dollars and cents, but by a feeling of confidence, that has gone.

GS: In all too many cases, yes.

SL: It's not about what the Federal Reserve does, or anything like that. It's about what we collectively have. We have got to take a look at what we are given, and I mean by God, and step forward and use what we have. We must live in a state of consciousness in which we perceive we are a part of everything in the universe. The degree to which you see that, is the degree to which you are conscious. If it's everyone, then you become quantumly conscious. Most of us are works in progress, but when you can say, that what you do to the least of mine you do to me, or when you speak of being in the oneness, then you are quantumly conscious. Those are our ideals and we must follow those ideals because we have no choice right now. We have no choice. Separation is the opposite of consciousness and we must change that as rapidly as possible. We have to stop living this insanity and until we do, the herd is going to be thinned out dramatically.

GS: So you are saying that we're looking at a potential large scale die off of people?

SL: Massive.

GS: In what time frame?

SL: It's already happening. To understand it, you have to understand what an immune deficiency is. The frequency of an immune deficiency destroys the barrier between you and what is hereditary. 92% of the world
